24th Sunday in Ordinary Time

The forgiven servant says to his fellow servant, “Pay back what you owe.” In so doing, he refuses “mercy to another like himself.”

The “math” of mercy is very simple: “Forgive your neighbor’s injustice; then your own sins will be forgiven.” How else dare we “expect healing from the Lord?”

We do not live for ourselves, but for the Lord and by the Lord. The “Lord of both the dead and the living” will endow us with the power to forgive as he himself does.

-Magnificat

UNLIMITED FORGIVENESS

God pardons those who pardon others. The mercy we show to others is the same mercy that will be shown to us.

The Lord has perfected this command by extending it to every person and to every offense.

Whatever be the provocation, if we are to forgive right away, and to the full, we need to have our hearts directed towards God. This grandeur of soul will lead us to pray for people who do us harm.

On those occasions when it is more difficult to forgive, we need to repeat the Lord’s words on Calvary: Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing. (Luke 23:34) - Fernandez, Francis-In Conversation with God

Morning Offering

My most sweet Lord, I offer and consecrate to you this morning all that I am and have.

My senses, my thoughts,

In a word, I place my whole body and soul
in your hands.

A painting depicting the miracle

THE EUCHARISTIC MIRACLE OF FIECHT

In the miracle of Fiecht, Austria in 1310 during the Mass, the priest was seized with doubt regarding the Real Presence of Jesus in the species of wine. Right after the consecration, the wine changed into Blood and began to boil and overflow the chalice. T h e priest, terrified, was unable to drink all the Holy Blood, and so the abbot placed the remainder in a vessel in the tabernacle of the main altar near the cloth with which the chalice was wiped.

In 1480, after 170 years, the Sacred Blood was "still fresh as though coming out of a wound," wrote the chronicler of those days. The Precious Blood is preserved intact to this day and is contained in the reliquary in the Monastery of St. Georgenberg. ~www.http://www.miracolieucaaristici.org

Year of the Eucharist Revival

Jesus hides in the Blessed Sacrament of the altar because he wants us to dare to approach him. He wants to nourish us so we become one single thing with him.

School Daze

Now that classes are underway, we wish all our students a happy and enlightening school year.

When his twin grandchildren came home from their first day of school, Grandpa asked them how it went.

Matter-of-factly, one twin replied, "Oh, it was all right...nobody flunked out!" ~ From the Mouths of Little Sprouts

The Saints & The Eucharist

Through your love for the Eucharist, you will also rediscover the Sacrament of Reconciliation, in which the merciful goodness of God always allows us to make a fresh start in our lives.
